Amneal wins the Leader of the Year Award and Company of the Year, Americas Award at the Global Generics & Biosimilars Awards 2017

Frankfurt, 24 October 2017: Amneal and Generics *bulletin are pleased to announce that Amneal has won the Leader of the Year Award and Company of the Year, Americas Award at the Global Generics & Biosimilars Awards 2017, organised by Generics *bulletin. The Leader of the Year Award was sponsored by Pharmacloud and the Company of the Year, Americas Award was sponsored by Chartwell Pharmaceuticals. Both were judged by an expert panel.

"Chirag Patel and Chintu Patel, Amneal's co-founders and co-chief executive officers, are worthy winners of the Leader of the Year Award," commented Aidan Fry, Editor of Generics *bulletin. "The company's strategic vision and track record of growth also persuaded our judges to hand the firm the Award for Company of the Year in the Americas region."

Now in their fourth year, the Awards were presented on Tuesday 24 October 2017 in Frankfurt, Germany, by Generics *bulletin and co-hosts QuintilesIMS.

The Global Generics & Biosimilars Awards 2017 rewards 'best practice' in the two sectors, while at the same time encouraging improvements in every aspect of the way business is conducted. Every Award effectively underscores the efforts made by the global generics and biosimilars sectors to make more affordable medicines available to more people everywhere.
